Worried about your pet when your vet is closed?

Talk to a UK-registered vet, 4am to midnight every day, and find out whether it's an emergency or can safely wait until morning.

Call Lewis when...

It's late and you're not sure
A vet tells you whether to go to an emergency vet now or wait for your own vet.

Something just isn't right
Sickness, a limp, itchy skin, or they've eaten something they shouldn't have.

You'd like more time to talk
Unhurried video consults for older pets, ongoing conditions and diet. £52.

You want all the options
Our vets talk through natural and complementary care alongside mainstream treatment.

How to talk to a vet now

1. Scan the QR code, or go to lewispetcare.net and tap Talk to a vet now.
2. Choose Talk To A Vet Now, book the earliest time and pay £55. We'll email you our vet line number straight away.
3. Call and speak to a vet. They can switch to a video call if they need to see your pet.

In an emergency, don't wait. If your pet has collapsed, is struggling to breathe, is bleeding heavily or has a fit lasting more than five minutes, go straight to your nearest emergency vet.

Lewis works alongside your own vet, never instead of them. With your permission we send our notes to your practice, and anything that needs hands-on care goes straight back to them.

Lewis gives remote veterinary advice only. We don't take animals under our care or prescribe POM-V medicines, and all Lewis vets are RCVS registered. Lewis Pet Care Ltd, registered in Scotland, company number SC903800.
